Brescia University, a Catholic liberal arts university in the Ursuline tradition, seeks a broadly-trained individual for a non-tenure-track assistant professor position in Biology to begin Fall 2015. Applicants must have a minimum of a Ph.D. degree and show a commitment to undergraduate education. The successful applicant will demonstrate ability or willingness to teach both majors and nonmajors biology in both on-ground and online formats. The primary need is in introductory-level courses with the possibility of an occasional upper-level course in the candidate’s specialty. Preference will be given to candidates with experience and interest in current STEM pedagogy. The department encourages and fosters creative teaching.

Complete applications will include an application letter, a vita, a statement of teaching philosophy, copies of college transcripts, and contact information for at least three professional references. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled (applications received by February 9 will be guaranteed full consideration) and should be sent either electronically or by mail to:
