VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

Assistant Professor of English

Brescia University, a Catholic institution in the Ursuline educational tradition, seeks a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor in English to teach undergraduate courses beginning in August 2023. Highest priority will be given to candidates with a preparation to teach British literature within the English major. Additional teaching responsibilities include courses in first-year composition, introductory literature, and upper-division writing and linguistics. Other duties involve advising students and serving on committees. Ph.D. required.

Send letters of interest, vita, three letters of reference, and copies of transcripts to Brescia University, PR#22-39, 717 Frederica St., Owensboro, KY 42301 or e-mail to HR@brescia.edu. Applications will be reviewed until position is filled.

Funding subject to budget approval. Diverse candidates urged to apply.
